

GRANTWRITING BASICS

Do you and your staff need to squeeze grantwriting into your regular job duties? Are you not sure you're finding the best leads and writing the most effective proposals? Learn the skills you need to raise more funds for your organization.

Learn how to:

- find funding leads that are a good match between your programs and funders' interests;
- investigate a foundation's giving history;
- write proposals that accurately and effectively represent your program to a particular funder; and
- continue building the relationship by submitting quality reports.

Team up with other organizations in your building to sponsor a joint workshop, or have me come in just to talk to your staff.

Workshop runs from 1 - 3 hours, based on content covered.

Contact me today to learn more!

Rebecca Kushner has raised funds from public and private sources, including federal, state, city, family foundation, and corporate funding opportunities. She helped raise $1.5 million in federal funds for a health center over the course of a few months, and has written grants for both clinical and social service programs for health, environmental, and youth organizations.